

JENNIFER GOULD

REAL ESTATE GIMME SHELTER

Rent the infamous Grey Gardens Hamptons house for the holidays

By Jennifer Gould

November 9, 2016 | 11:02pm

The pool doesn't disappoint.

Photo: The Corcoran Group

Here's a fun Thanksgiving option.

Grey Gardens, the East Hampton home that saw the extraordinary demise of two socialites — Big Edie and Little Edie Bouvier Beale, related to Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy Onassis — and was immortalized in film, is now available as a holiday rental.

It's asking $7,500 for the week of Thanksgiving and $12,500 over the week of Christmas.

The 28-room, 6,000-square-foot mansion, where Big Edie and Little Edie lived in squalor and chaos, was built in 1897 and is now fully restored.

It comes with a pool and tennis court on 1.7 acres.

The estate is also available for the entire year, minus August through Labor Day, for $175,000.

The listing broker is Corcoran's Gary DePersia.

FILED UNDER GIMME SHELTER, GREY GARDENS, HOLIDAYS, JACQUELINE KENNEDY ONASSIS

Recommended by Outbrain